In police court this morning a much

JUDGE N. W. HAIRE
IS IN THE CITY

Prominent Michigan Financier and Prospective Member of Congress Talks Interesting Conditions.

Judge Norman W. Haire of Houghton, Mich., one of the leading capitals and public men of his section, arrived in the city today on the Limited and is a guest of the Alvarado.

Judge Haire is one of the directors of the Superior & Boston Copper Company of Glendale, Arizona, and is on his way to Glendale to attend a meeting of the board of directors. He is also president of the Miners Development company in Grant county, New Mexico, and has other extensive business interests in this state, being associated in the copper business with J. E.
Sault and George A. Kusman of Judge Haire talked interestingly of the financial situation when seen today. He thinks that prices have about reached low tide, and that better conditions may be expected in the immediate future. The big stump in railroad securities and the industrial market he attributes to too much politics and the fear on the part of investors of the results that might follow.

Judge Haire is prominent in political affairs in his home state, and his election to the next congress from the Customs district on the Republican ticket is regarded as a certainty.

Nothing makes a young girl so unpopular as unwillingness to give another a fair show to talk. She may be a veritable chatterbox at other times. If she has the art to hold her tongue when some one else is talking.

A man is commenting on a girl said: "I like her, she always gives a fellow a chance to get in the point of his stories."

True, there is such a thing as listening to the point of stupidity. One young girl gave as an excuse for speaking but five times in the course of a dinner that she thought people would have thought more of her

CONFERENCE GETS BIG SUPPORT

Boosters for All-South Conference Are Royally Entertained in Little Rock and Dallas; Meets in Memphis October 9.

Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 27.—Carrying their message of a boost for the south and the Memphis All-South conference, to be held on October 9, the fifth stop in the southern tour which is being made by Col. D. A.
Collier, director general of the Panama-California exposition, to be held in San Diego, Cal., in 1915, and as Managing Director Duwe explained in Little Rock, the Southern Colleagues, present at the luncheon by the board of trade, those gentlemen matters which outlined the purposes of the trip, and through the south, explaining the aid and co-operation of the commercial bodies of the city in an effort to swing the tide of tourist travel from mid-country and northern routes, as it goes now, to the south. The interest of Little Rock's commercial bodies grew intense as Collier went into detail regarding the important relation that southern tourist travel would have to the success of the Panama-California exposition, to be held
Managing Director Duwe explained an increasing tourist travel through the south bore a close relation to a better national understanding of the south, its marvelous resources and its rapid development. They both emphasized the importance of the Memphis All-South conference, to be held on October 9, and from which, it is understood, an invitation will be issued to the nation to visit the south, and thereby bring about a partial diversion of the Pacific coast.

During the afternoon the distinguished visitors were the guests of E.
R. Batterbee, secretary of the Arkansas Land Congress, and George R.
Brown, secretary of the board of trade, for an automobile ride.

The Ad Men's club met Collier and Duwe in the Board of Trade auditorium at 6:30 this evening where both were assured the enthusiastic co-operation of that organization.

The party spent Saturday in Dallas where they were the guests of the commercial organizations, and were taken in autos on a visit to Fort Worth. At night they were the guests of the Dallas chamber of commerce and Ad Men's club at a banquet. A large representation was assured for the All-South conference.

While here Messrs. Collier and Duwe were in the hands of the entertainment committee of the local organizations of Little Rock, and after the Little Rock entertainment they left for Shreveport, where they will meet with the chamber of commerce of that city.

guished visitors were the guests of E.
